MASQUERS TO SELL TICKETS FOR MORONI OLSEN PLAYERS

Six Plays to Be Offered to Student Body at Reduced Prices

University students will have the opportunity of seeing the six best plays to be presented in Missoula during the year for $3.25, through the co-operation of the A.A.U.W., in charge of advance sales for the Moroni Olsen plays, and the State University Masquers. A thorough canvass of dormitories and sorority and fraternity houses has been made under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Hutchens.

Well Known for Past Productions
The Moroni Olsen Players, well known in Missoula for their productions "Outward Bound," "The Ship" and others, will present three plays here again this season, "The Lilies of the Field," by John Hastings Turner, "The Detour" by Owen Davis, and "Candida" by George Bernard Shaw.

Masquers' First Production
The Masquers' first production will be "The Butter and Egg Man" by George F. Kaufman. Two plays of a more serious type are scheduled for winter and spring quarters.

The combinations of Masquers' and Moroni Olsen Players' seats run the range in prices: $6.50 for the seats regularly priced at $7.00 for the two; $4.50 and $3.25 are the other prices. Mrs. Hutchens urges students to buy the less expensive seats, in order that they may see the best shows, and at the same time save their money for other affairs.

Masquers to Sell Tickets
A committee of Masquers, headed by Martha Dunlap, Myrtle Hollingsworth and Ronald Miller, will sell tickets in Main hall all day Thursday to those students who are not reached in the other canvass.

Co-ed Prom to Be Held November Fifth

Co-ed Prom is to be held on November 5 this year. Nominations for manager should be turned in at the AWS meeting next Monday at 4 o'clock. This is the annual girls' "frolic" and is usually in charge of an upperclass girl. "Big sisters" escort their "little sisters" and each group on the campus that is a member of AWS puts on an act of some sort. The best of these acts receives a prize, as do the best costumes of the evening.

Other nominations which should be brought to the meeting are: Vice-president, manager of the point system, chairman of the traditions committee and chairman of the big sister committee. These offices were left vacant when the girls who held them did not return to school this quarter and were ineligible to hold them.

MEDICAL REFUNDS TO UNDERGO CHANGE

Due to changes made in the system of granting refunds to students for medical treatment this year no bills will be paid for the student unless approved by the University nurse. In former years it has been the custom to summon a physician at any time and present the bill to the health department and a part of it would be paid, but this year the nurse must first be summoned, and if need be she will call a physician.

Mrs. A. P. LeClaire, director of health of the University, says in a bulletin to the student body that they are going to be unusually strict this year about doctor and hospital bills that have been incurred without the approval of her department, and only in case of emergency will such bills be granted.

Frequent inspections of fraternity houses will be made this year to inspect the health conditions in the various houses, according to Mrs. LeClaire.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS CHOSEN FOR FACULTY

Names of students who will serve as assistants in the School of Forestry were announced Monday by Dean T. C. Spaulding. Merle Markham has been named nursery assistant, Emil Ernst will be in charge of the instrument room and Homer Anderson and John Emerson will be student instructors in surveying.

Ernst will take care of all equipment used by students. He succeeds H. H. Van Winkle, who has had the position for several years. T. G. Swearingen has been chosen as instructor in drafting.

CORA QUAST TO GIVE LAST CONCERT HERE

Cora Quast, contralto, will give a farewell concert Thursday evening at 8:15 p. m. in Main hall auditorium.

Miss Quast was a former student at the University of Montana where she was a charter member of the local chapter of Alpha Phi. She studied with DeLoss Smith and was a member of the Glee club.

Lives in California
She spent two years in California for the benefit of her health. Later she went to Chicago where she studied two years under Percy Rector Stevens and Dr. Percy Lulek, and also under Richard Hageman, noted coach and composer.

Taught in Hamilton
Returning to Montana, she taught two years in Hamilton, where she sang at various entertainments. This summer she went to Seattle where she studied with Graham Morgan and was understudy for Marian Telya, contralto of the Metropolitan Opera company, in the opera "Aida." While she was understudy she coached with Jon-Jerville, who advised her to go to New York to study. She plans to leave for New York Saturday.

Miss Caroline Frauf, violinist, accompanied by Miss Elsa Anderson, will assist Miss Quast.

VISITS SISTER HERE

Joe Flynn and Jimmy Nugent of Miles City, members of the Mount St. Charles football team, spent the week end in Missoula. Joe was the guest of his sister, Clare Flynn.

LINE GIVES ADDRESS AT KIWANIS MEETING

Professor R. C. Line, head of the Business Administration department, gave an address today at the Kiwanis club luncheon. Mr. Line's subject was "Higher Education and Business Standards." Mr. Line is new on the campus as an instructor, but will be remembered by some of the old alumni as a former student, who, while not a journalism major, was prominent on the Kaimin staff and a member of the first Press club.

PROFESSOR WEISBERG PUBLISHES NEW BOOK

A. H. Weisberg, of the School of Music, has two new works on violin study, published by G. Schirmer of New York, which will appear during the coming winter. The books are "The Art of Expression," for violin, and "Scales and Arpeggio Studies for Violin."

Schirmer has published three other books by Professor Weisberg. They are "School of Shifting," now in its fourth edition; "Foundation Exercises," now in its third edition; and "School of Double Stops."

FACULTY MEMBERS RECEIVE INVITATIONS

Faculty members at the State University received invitations this week from the Rotary club to attend the seventh annual reception for Missoula teachers. In addition to University instructors, high school teachers and grade teachers are invited. The reception will be held Friday evening at the Winter Garden. Cards and dancing are the forms of entertainment offered.

DERBIES AND CANES FOR LAW SENIORS

Seniors in the Law school will wear derbies and carry canes this year. In the past they have carried canes only during the spring quarter. The canes and hats were decided upon at an informal meeting of the senior law students last week, and were ordered immediately. The lawyers hope to have them here in time to wear them during Homecoming.

A meeting of the Law School association will be held some time this week and officers will be elected. Plans for the Barristers' ball will be discussed and arrangements will be made for a smoker to be held some time soon.

Lack of Sufficient Financial Support Is Cause of So Few Home Contests

Why are there so few home games at Montana? The paid attendance at the St. Charles game serves as illustration of the lack of financial support to our University football.

Income—	Admissions	Amount
Reservations	500	$456.50
General admissions	222	216.00
Total	722	$672.50
Expenses—
Guarantee		$400.00
Officials		165.63
Miscellaneous		36.50
Total		$602.13
Balance		$ 70.37

Seven hundred twenty-two paid admissions from a city of 15,000! It is estimated that 1,000 students attended the game; students pay $2.50 for their tickets. This amount just pays for the equipment and overhead expense. Paid admissions must be relied upon to carry expenses of the game. Certainly three or four hundred loyal supporters cannot be expected to carry the burden of expensive guarantees necessary to secure home games with Coast conference and western schools. It was well known that the St. Charles game was to be a close and interesting contest, and yet, having but a small guarantee to pay, expenses were barely met.

J. H. MORROW, Business Manager.

Individual Tryouts to Be Held Two Days for Masquers Play

Today and tomorrow afternoons and evenings William Angus will direct individual tryouts for parts in "The Butter and Egg Man." Five women and eight men are needed in the cast, which Mr. Angus hopes to have picked by the end of the week. Rehearsals will begin soon, and the members of the company will have to work very hard, according to the plans Mr. Angus has made for them.

Five Major Characters
There are five major characters in "The Butter and Egg Man," and all thirteen parts offer good variety and chances for clever acting. Upperclassmen will report at the Little Theater at 4 o'clock and 7 o'clock today; freshmen will meet tomorrow at the same hours.

MERRILL ENDS YEAR OF STUDY IN EUROPE

Proves Important Mathematical Theories to Be Announced Later

Research work, study at one of the oldest universities in Europe, and sight seeing were among the activities of Dr. A. S. Merrill, professor of mathematics at the University, during his year's stay in Europe. Dr. Merrill was accompanied by Mrs. Merrill. They returned to Missoula recently and Dr. Merrill has resumed his position in the Mathematics department.

Sailing from Montreal September 23 last year, Dr. and Mrs. Merrill landed in Glasgow, Scotland. They proceeded from there to Edinburgh, where Dr. Merrill spent five months studying at the University of Edinburgh. He was not enrolled as a student, but was accorded full privileges in the university library and the library of the Royal Society of Edinburgh. Dr. Merrill also attended classes and lecture courses at his option.

Through the kindness of Professor Whitaker, head of the Mathematics department, of the University of Edinburgh, Dr. and Mrs. Merrill met a large number of the faculty of the university. They were well received there, but suffered continuously from the cold, damp climate of Scotland, the doctor stated.

One of the amusing sights of Scotland, according to Dr. Merrill, is the election by the university of a Lord Rector. The position, a purely honorary one, is filled each year by popular vote among the students of the

FIVE DOLLARS AWARD TO BEST PLAY SETTING

MODEL SET WANTED FOR "BUTTER AND EGG MAN"

Award Will Be Given to Any Student Constructing the Best Setting for First and Third Acts.

Five dollars will be awarded to the best model set of the first and third acts of "The Butter and Egg Man" designed by a student, according to the announcement made yesterday by William Angus, director of the Little Theater, where the play will be held. "We want everyone who possibly can to turn in models for the first big production," was the opinion of Mr. Angus and John Schroeder, Masquers' president. The models will be used to give ideas for the scene as it will appear on the Little Theater stage, and they will also be exhibited downtown before the play is produced.

Setting of Play
The office of the Leiman Productions has been rented only recently and there is a pile of miscellaneous junk from the old vaudeville office, occupying the rear wall. Great bundles of newspapers, a few moldy box files, a part of a stage bandaged costume, and even a ballet dancer's slipper are to be found. Except for a huge and shining and obviously new desk, the pile is the most prominent object in the room. The play calls for a new swivel chair, visitors' chair, and another, smaller chair. A filing cabinet and water cooler complete the furnishings. On the walls are scattered in disarray some sixty or seventy photographs of artists whom Mr. Leiman has known. There are two doors, one leading to the outer hallway and lettered on the reverse side of its frosted glass.

Room 806
Lehman Productions
Inc.
Entrance Room 805

The other door is unlabeled, and when it opens, the reception room outside may be seen.

The stipulations of this Masquers' contest are:

1. The models must be drawn to a one-half inch or one-inch scale, and made of cardboard or similar material.
2. The models must meet the requirements of the play.
3. Two or more people may work on the same model. Only one prize will be given, $5 for the set, regardless of the number of students working together.
4. Models must be submitted at Mr. Angus' office in Simpkins hall not later than 4 o'clock, Wednesday, October 12.

In case the Masquers consider that none of the models submitted is worth consideration, they reserve the right to withhold the prize.

Washington Guests Will Be Entertained During Homecoming

University of Washington alumni met Monday night in the Home Economics reception room, 313 Natural Science, to make plans for Homecoming and the Montana-Washington game the fifteenth. More than ten alumni were present.

Washingtonians are going to reserve a table for the Washington supporters at the alumni banquet Saturday evening in the women's gymnasium.

Saturday morning the Washingtonians will hold a pep rally at the Little Theater. At 10 there will be a song fest and a speech by Coach Bagshaw of Washington. The visiting team boosters will arrive on the Montana special at 7 o'clock Friday morning.

Miss Anne Platt, of the Department of Home Economics, is arranging the decorations for the Washington table at the banquet. N. B. Beck is putting it on the Homecoming program and arousing enthusiasm at Washington.

PROFESSOR THOMAS BACK FROM MEXICO

Declares Need for Understanding of Mexico and Mexicans by American Public

That Americans and particularly college students will in the near future be compelled to make a serious effort to understand Mexico and Mexicans is the opinion of Professor B. E. Thomas, of the Spanish department, who has just returned from Mexico City. Mr. Thomas attended the summer session of the University of Mexico and specialized in Mexican history, literature and economics.

Anxious to Be Friendly
Mexicans of the upper class are anxious to be friendly with the United States, and they wish to acquaint Americans with true conditions in Mexico, according to Professor Thomas. The need in Mexico is not for American politicians and oil prospectors, but for students and teachers who will study Mexican customs and history and be able to carry this information to the American public.

Professor Thomas stated that in his belief South American and Central American history is not studied sufficiently in American colleges and institutions.

Aim of College Administration
During his seven weeks' stay in Mexico City Professor Thomas came into contact with many upper class Mexicans, and he found them very intelligent and interested in the future of Mexico. The aim of the Calles administration, which is now firmly established in power, is to divide the land, formerly in the hands of a few capitalists, evenly among the peons.

REGISTRATION FIGURES SHOW INCREASE; TOTAL NOW 1356

FOREST NURSERY TO AID MONTANA FARMS

Something worth seeing—the School of Forestry's nursery which is being built through the co-operative efforts of the extension department of the State college, the federal government and the Forestry school. About 15 acres of land immediately south and east of the Van Buren street bridge, which is owned by the State University, is being used as a site for the nursery. The output from this tract will total 1,500,000 trees and shrubs, according to present plans.

In addition to serving as a laboratory for Forestry school students, it is intended that this tract furnish shrubs and trees available for farmers in the arid sections of Montana to plant on their dry-land acreage. This latter use has been the chief factor considered in starting the nursery.

One of the disagreeable features of life on Montana's dry-land farms, it is said, is the lack of shade. Experiments are being carried on here with species of trees which will grow and thrive in the arid sections. In order to give farmers instruction in planting and caring for these trees and shrubs after they are purchased, School of Forestry officials will co-operate actively with county agents. Hedges of these trees or shrubs will serve as windbreaks to protect crops and dwellings.

Farmers will be able to buy the plants from the nursery at a small price. Heretofore, the cost of trees and shrubs has made it nearly prohibitive for the average farmer to beautify the surroundings of his home.

PROFESSOR MERRIAM VISITS LINDERMAN

Professor and Mrs. H. G. Merriam visited Frank B. Linderman, who received his degree of doctor of laws here last June, at his home on Goose Bay, Flathead lake, during the week end. Mr. Linderman, who at different times during his life has been a trapper, cowboy, assayer, newspaper man and legislator, is now engaged in writing a book about the Sioux chief, Plenty-Coups. He has made an intensive study of Indian legends and customs and has become an adopted member of Sioux and Chippewa tribes.

BOTANY DEPARTMENT WILL LABEL TREES

Trees on the campus are to be mapped and given index numbers, according to Professor J. E. Kirkwood, head of the Botany department. A chart showing the location of all American trees and shrubs on the campus is to be kept in the superintendent's office for record. Professor Kirkwood states that after the indexing, if plans are carried out, each tree will be labeled with the common and scientific name.

FRESHMAN BOOK LISTS ARE NOW COMPLETED

Reading lists for freshman classes have been compiled by the English department, according to Professor H. G. Merriam, chairman of the department. These lists are planned to help students realize American background, to show the differences between authors representative of different sections of the country and to enable students to understand American quality in literature.

NEWCOMERS ENTERTAINED AT CORBIN HALL TEA

The wives of new faculty members and the new women teachers were entertained at a tea given by the University Women's club at Corbin hall from 3 to 5:30 yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Clapp and Mrs. W. E. Schreiber received while Mrs. P. W. Cook, Mrs. Earl Bennett, Mrs. W. E. Madlock, Mrs. Warren Wilcox and Mrs. Walter Pope served.

SCIENTISTS TO MEET

Springfield, Ohio.—(IP)—An educational conference of psychologists and scientists from America and Europe will be held here at Wittenberg college from October 12 to 22 inclusive, it has been announced. Prominent professors from all parts of the country are scheduled to deliver addresses at the meetings.

Small Freshman Registration Is Offset by Upperclass Attendance

Registration figures at the State University as compared with the figures for the same period last year show an increase of one, although there is a decrease in the number of freshmen since 408 were enrolled in the freshman class at this time last year while there are only 420 this year. The number of new students entering with advanced standing increased by 15 and there were 11 new students with degrees whereas last year there were but two.

Cause for Decrease in Freshmen
The decrease in freshman registration may be explained by the opening of the one-year college course at the School of Mines, the opening of the new Normal school at Billings and the large numbers of students going outside the state to other universities. However, as far as the University administration is concerned with registration numbers, the attendance is satisfactory.

Although in general the University registration has steadily increased year by year, the increase is irregular. In 1924-25 the increase was only one and in 1923-24 there were about fifty students less than the year before.

Total registration figures for the current quarter to date are: New students, 449; former students, 828; and total registration, 1,356.

Forestry Club Meets Wednesday

The first meeting of the Forestry club will be held Wednesday, October 7, according to the announcement of T. C. Spaulding, dean of the School of Forestry. Officers of the club for this year were elected last spring.

Bear Paws Tap Twenty Men at Football Game

Between halves of the Montana-St. Charles football game last Saturday afternoon on Dornblaser field, Bear Paw, sophomore men's honorary organization, tapped 20 members of last year's freshman class to carry on the work distinctive of Bear Paw for this school year.

The men who were honored are: Covell Skeels, Missoula; Frank Curtis, Galata; William Deeney, William Haggerty, John Keyes, Butte; Charles Dill, Hamilton; Kenneth Downs, Lewistown; Kermit Ekegren, Harlem; James Gillan, Oilmont; Sam Gilly, Donald Stevingston, Walter Reiner, Great Falls; Francis Golob, Black Eagle; Richard Robinson, Foy Priest, Livingston; Harold Rufe, Deer Lodge; Russell Smith, Billings; George Woodworth, Stevensville; Henry Miller, Helena; and Carl Rankin, Hardin.

The men were chosen for their scholarship, character and past service to the University. Their duty consists of meeting all trains carrying athletic teams, enforcing campus traditions, rendering aid at all athletic contests, meeting trains during the interscholastic track meet, carrying on drives of any kind, and performing other services for the University.

ANGUS NAMES PLAY FOR MUSICAL SHOW

Another Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera with plenty of "good, rousing, unseasonable tunes" is to be given at the Little Theater this year, according to William Angus, director of dramatics. "The Pirates of Penzance" has been chosen this year as the production of the Masquers, the Glee clubs and the School of Music combined. These three were responsible for "Pinafore" last year. Mr. Angus predicts that the "Pirates" will be an "interesting and colorful affair."

UNIVERSITY STUDENT DIES IN GREAT FALLS

News has been received by friends in Missoula of the death of Mrs. Kathryn Frazer-Golding in Great Falls Sunday night, after an illness of about two months. Mrs. Golding was taken ill while attending the State University summer session and was sent to the Deaconess hospital in Great Falls. She attended the University in 1922-23 and again in 1926 and would have been graduated next June from the History department. Mrs. Golding had many friends on the campus who sincerely regret her death. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Chuck-Hole Trail

OFF AND ON during the last three years we have watched, waited and hoped that the campus roads would be repaired. With Homecoming less than two weeks away we think it is high time that something be done to remedy the miserable condition of practically all the campus highways. This is especially true of the "trail" around the oval.

Throughout the summer, tourists, hearing of the beauty of the Montana campus, have made it a point to visit this attractive spot. Small wonder if they received a distorted view of our new buildings, our lovely lawns and trees as they bounced from chuck-hole to chuck-hole.

On October 14 and 15 Montana is host to what is expected to be the largest Homecoming celebration in the history of the University. Plans are being made to run a special train from Seattle carrying scores of Washington boosters as well as former Montana students. Old grads and ex-students not only from Montana but from all parts of the country will be returning. Then, if ever, the campus should put forth its best appearance. But this cannot be done as long as the roads remain in their present deplorable condition. If decent roads cannot be maintained the year around they should at least be fixed up once a year—for Homecoming.

Montana State and University

MONTANA students usually show good sportsmanship. However, one incident Saturday did not go to prove this. When the score of the Montana State-Idaho game was announced, showing Montana State to be behind, cheers came from the greater part of the stands.

Perhaps most of us have become so associated with the idea that the State College is a traditional enemy that we cheered automatically. But much has been accomplished in the way of friendship. If one looks in a Kaimin of five or six years ago he can easily realize how much better student relations between the schools are.

Aside from sportsmanship, it should be our duty to support any Montana school. All our institutions of higher learning are really a part of the Greater University of Montana.

The athletes of the two schools are a little ahead of the student body. Teams of the two schools have sent several telegrams congratulating each other on major victories. One such was sent from the Montana student body in 1926, praising the Bozeman school for its football showing. But no one on this campus ever heard about it. It was printed on the front page of the Weekly Exponent, the State College paper.

Promiscuous fighting, broken heads and hats—common enough in years gone by when Montana U and State met—are now out of date.

There is still much feeling and money lost in annual athletic contests between the two schools. There will probably be more in years to come. But it's time we became a little more cordial towards other Montana schools.

Forestry Out-of-State Enrollment Increasing

Registration from outside the state of Montana is increasing in the School of Forestry, according to the announcement of Dean T. C. Spaulding. Figures in the registrar's office show that 65 per cent of the students enrolled in this school are from other states. North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota are the best represented.

"A material decrease in the number of students transferring from other schools of forestry to Montana is indicated," Dean Spaulding says. "Nearly all those registering now are making the Montana school their first choice."

SMACK

Unruly Pledge Refuses to Go to a Dance

"I tell you I won't go!"
SMACK.
"Now will you go?"
"NO."
SMACK.
"For the love of Pat, have a heart."
"You're going if I have to drag you there myself."

"But I tell you that I'll disgrace not only myself but the whole bunch."
"If you do, you'll be so sore you won't sit down for a week. If you pull anything that's not up to snuff, OH BOY BUT YOU'LL CATCH IT!"

"But I don't want to drink a lot of tea and then imitation cookies. Besides I'll just make myself a dub in that bunch of society birds. (To himself—These women will drive me mad). Aw, please!"

"NO!"
"Well, all right, if you will be so persistent." (To himself again—with that d—paddle. I'll go.)

The above mentioned scene is one that occurred in a local fraternity house.

Ray Beseth was released from the South hall infirmary Saturday.

Stenographic Bureau Small But Very Vital

Due to its seclusion, the busiest office of the University administrative department is the least known by the average student. Few who pass along the corridor in the basement of Main hall and hear the constant buzz of typewriters realize that all this commotion comes from behind the door labeled Clerical Service Division.

Only those who venture in and know the "ins and outs" of the department realize the tremendous amount of work that is turned out. Here a number of student employees spend their spare hours under the careful supervision of Mrs. Katherine Schroeder, doing their bit to keep the wheels of the University turning—and incidentally paying the board bills.

It is to this small department that the campus instructors come with their grief. First comes a dignified professor with a detailed outline to be mimeographed, then one with a week's correspondence in his hand looking for a competent stenographer, next one appears with a weekly quiz to be out by morning. Thus numerous other services are requested such as copy prepared for instructors who are publishing books, theses written, fraternity and sorority letters written, programs mimeographed; and all are attended to with the utmost care.

OBERLIN HAS FRESHMAN WEEK

Oberlin, Ohio.—(IP)—"Freshman week," virtually a new experiment last year, has spread so rapidly that this year it is estimated at least one-third of the colleges and universities in the country had their class of 1931 arrive on the campus a week early and become familiar with things before the arrival of the upperclassmen.

North and South halls will exchange dinner guests tomorrow evening.

It's so convenient to cook electrically!

The simplicity of operation, the cleanliness, the sureness of every meal, baking or cooking being done with the same tastiness and wholesomeness—these are all advantages that you can have only with electric cookery.

The mere turn of a switch brings to you ideal cooking and baking heat. It's safe—there's no flame, no smoke, no soot, no ashes.

Keeps your pots and kettles spick and span. Eliminates greasy, sooty walls, too!

You'll like the oven in L&H Electric ranges. These all have the exclusive one-piece, round-cornered oven—so easy to keep clean and sweet. There are no corners in which crumbs can lodge.

The ovens are rust-proof, too—designed for many years of service. L&H Electric have made this—ordinarily a weak point—one of their strongest features.

Won't you let us show you why you should be cooking electrically? Come in today!

GRIZZLIES TURN SAINTS 8-0 IN EVEN GRIDIRON BATTLE

Montana's First Score Comes in Last Ten Minutes of Hard Contest

Eddie Chinske's pass over the goal line to Sam Kain to count the only touchdown of a hotly contested game allowed the Grizzlies to triumph over Mount St. Charles in Montana's initial intercollegiate game last Saturday. Baffled on numerous line attempts, the Grizzlies were forced into the air to pound out their meager 8-0 victory. With an unusually stubborn defense and a really surprising assortment of effective plays, the Saints were a constant menace.

Three Even Quarters

For over three periods the Grizzly had hammered ineffectually at the Saints' forward wall and had sent play after play spinning around the ends without much luck. Then, with but seven minutes to play, Eddie Chinske placed the ball in scoring position with a pretty return of one of Gelhausen's punts. Montana smacked the Saint forwards three times without success and then Chinske flipped the ball 20 yards to Kain, who received back of the Hilltoppers' goal line. A few minutes later, Tierman broke through and dumped Gelhausen back of the line when the back was attempting a pass.

Throughout the first half, the teams were apparently evenly matched, although the ball was on Saint territory most of the time. Both squads hurled heavy line plays at their opponents but the forwards checked each attempt in rather discouraging fashion. Then the play took to the air. Here the Missoula collegians excelled, gaining a total of 178 yards through the atmosphere. The Saints completed a pair of tosses for a total of 34 yards, the best one landing the ball near the Grizzly goal line for a gain of about 25 yards.

Saints' Powerful Defense

It was the dogged defense of the Hilltoppers that kept the issue so much in doubt. Several times the Grizzly lumbered up to the opposing goal only to have a brilliant defense stop them on the verge of a counter. The line play of Robinson and Lewis, opposing centers, was an outstanding feature of the play. These men broke through time after time to dump the ball carrier and were equally effective on the defense. Good, Saint Charles back, was a power on the offense, getting away for several runs besides punting and handling the ball in polished fashion.

Grizzly Line Powerful

The Grizzly line was especially powerful, turning back the thrusts of the Saint backfield consistently. The backfield functioned smoothly, although fumbles and indecision marred the play at times.

Next Saturday, the pupils of Coach Milburn go to Pullman to engage the Cougar, whose tie with St. Charles already mars its record. Before the season is over, this tie may be turned to the credit side of the ledger. The Saints are good. Anyway, the Grizzly counts confidently on a victory over the cocky Cougars.

Under the new agrarian policy, foreigners are not allowed to hold large concessions, and those who already hold large properties there are being forced by law to sell a large part of their estates.

This, in Professor Thomas' opinion, is just, and he upholds the policy of the present government. An educational movement is also being promulgated, both among the upper classes and the peons.

American Students Encouraged
American students are encouraged to attend the Mexican colleges, and every effort is made to aid them in studying conditions in the country. Last summer there were about 300 American students in attendance at the University of Mexico, and 50 others were engaged in research work there. Most of the Americans were teachers in universities in the United States.

"The eyes of the world," Professor Thomas said, "are on the policy of the United States in Mexico. All the Spanish-speaking countries of Central and South America fear America, and they will take the American attitude toward Mexico as a criterion; therefore it is of the utmost importance that Americans understand Mexico and her people, so that fair dealing will be the watchword."

American capitalists in Mexico, Professor Thomas went on, have rarely done the right thing. They have seized what they wanted without regard for property rights, and they have not hesitated to cheat the peons when it was possible. Under the new regime, this is rapidly becoming impossible, and Americans will have to realize it and change their tactics.

Marion Redle, Missoula, is withdrawing from school to be with her sister, who is very ill. Marian and her mother will leave for Mexico the latter part of this week.

WAA to Hold Games of Soccer Biweekly as Open-Hour Sport

WAA will feature soccer at an open hour Monday and Wednesday from 4 to 5. Those who wish to learn the game may either attend at this hour or join one of the regular classes which meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 and 3 o'clock.

If enough students turn out for this sport WAA plans to foster an university. Brawls and riots are common during the elections, and spirit runs high.

After spending the winter months in Scotland, Dr. and Mrs. Merrill went to London, where Dr. Merrill spent two months in research work with Dr. Carl Pearson, head of the Department of Statistics of the University of London. Several important mathematical theories were proved by Dr. Merrill as a result of his investigations. The results of the research are being published in scientific periodicals in England, and may be divulged here later.

During the summer months Dr. and Mrs. Merrill traveled on the Continent, spending the time in sight-seeing. They visited Holland, Belgium, France and Switzerland. They sailed for New York during the last of July, arriving in the United States August 3.

En route to Missoula, Dr. Merrill stopped at Madison, Wis., where he attended the meetings of the American Mathematical society and the Mathematical association. Several weeks were also spent visiting in the east.

Florence Jaquith, '25, of Kalispell was a campus visitor Sunday and Monday.

Blanche Johnson, ex '29, is a guest at the Alpha Phi house for the week.

SHORT SPURTS

The Grizzlies beat the Saints. The Saints tied W.S.C. W.S.C. will beat Idaho. Idaho beat Montana State. W.S.C. will beat Montana State and—and—and—Oh, figure it out for yourself.

Fielding H. Yost has, at last, forsaken the fields of the barred turf. For many years he has piloted the Michigan dreadnaught and during those years the best teams of the country have fallen before the mighty Wolverine. Yost's masterful strategy have won many games when Michigan was, man for man, weaker than the opposition. Several times he has turned back Minnesota when the "Giants of the North," as they are known, were at the peak of their formidable power and there are many who will be relieved when they learn that the Wolverine mentor has at last quit active coaching. Certainly he has done much to place intercollegiate ate football on the pedestal it occupies in the public mind.

U.S.C. displayed its characteristic power when it romped over Santa Clara last Saturday. The Trojans uncocked tremendous scoring ability and ran at will, using nothing but the most simple of formations. The Golden Bear of California was lucky to win over the Santa Clara's preceding bath day when they eked out a 13-6 victory.

"One Eye" Connolly, champion gate crusher of the world, again baffled the bouncers when he prowled into Tex Rickard's battle of the infinite distances at Soldiers' field. Nor was Connolly content to sit out in Aurora or Cicero; he moved into Rickard's own ringside seat. This disgusted the fistic financier to such an extent that he presented Connolly with a perpetual ticket. Probably Connolly will never use it.
